Published with the exhibition 1525 by Dutch artist Marcel van Eeden at CAC Málaga, and featuring more than 200 black pencil, pastel, and watercolour drawings, this book reflects a vast body of work known for its post-pop, post-television, filmic gaze. In a series created specially for this exhibition, the traveller Oswald Sollman, Van Eedens main character (with autobiographical overtones), visits Málaga. The artists suspense-filled narrations of dark, mysterious stories about enigmatic characters transport us metaphorically to a literary territory. Van Eeden takes a step back from events to demonstrate how history is also written in the ordinary acts unfolding on an everyday basis.
